

SOLAR TAKES OFF AT KENNEDY SPACE CENTER VISITOR COMPLEX

Space Commerce Way, Merritt Island
BREVARD COUNTY

The Kennedy Space Center Visitor Complex is where rockets launch and inspiration begins at Florida's gateway to space. Solar has long been a part of NASA missions, and now visitors can experience it firsthand with the revolutionary solar trees on site that harness the power of the sun.

FROM OUR COMMUNITY:

“We are always looking for ways to incorporate new technologies into our guest experience. When FPL approached us to be part of their SolarNow program, we jumped at the opportunity to provide a site for clean energy generation and a learning opportunity for our guests.”

— Therrin Protze
Chief Operating Officer

PLANTING THE SEEDS FOR A BRIGHTER FUTURE

FPL SolarNow solar trees and canopies are innovative solar structures created by the community for the community. They provide shade and harness the power of the sun to generate emissions-free energy that benefits all of us while encouraging future generations to learn more about solar energy.
